Index of authors and papers, Vol. 15 (1987)

Banks, E.: see Sidanius et al.
Bealey, F., Stability and crisis: fears about threats to democracy 687
Bendix, R., Values and concepts in Max Weber's comparative studies 493
Braun, D.: see Keman and Braun
Bréchon, P., J. Derville and P. Lecomte, RPR officials: a report on an inquiry into the Neo-Gaullist Party elite 593
Brewer, R.M.: see Sidanius et al.
Brunk, G.G., G.A. Caldeira and M.S. Lewis-Beck, Capitalism, socialism, and democracy: An empirical inquiry 459
Bürklin, W.P., Why study political cycles? An introduction 131

Caldeira, G.A.: see Brunk et al.
Castles, F.G., Neocorporatism and the 'happiness index', or what the trade unions get for their cooperation 381

Daalder, H., Countries in comparative European politics 3
Dekker, P. and P. Ester, Working-class authoritarianism: a re-examination of the Lipset thesis 395
Derville, J.: see Bréchon et al.
Deutsch, K.W., Towards the scientific understanding of nationalism and the national development: the crucial contribution of Stein Rokkan 653
Dowding, K.M. and R. Kimber, Political stability and the science of comparative politics 103

Edwards, M., Public choice theory and petroleum policies in Canada, Britain and Norway 363
Eisner, M., Cycles of political control: the case of the Canton of Zürich, 1880–1983 167
Ekehammar, B.: see Sidanius et al.
Ester, P.: see Dekker and Ester

Farrell, D.M. and M. Wortmann, Party strategies in the electoral market: Political marketing in West Germany, Britain and Ireland 297

Glismann, H.H., From gold field discoveries to institutional sclerosis. Theories and observations on long waves of economies 223

Grande, E., Neoconservatism and conservative-liberal economic policy in West Germany 281
Groot, F.: see Van Winden et al.

Keman, H. and D. Braun, Economic interdependence, international regimes and domestic strategies of industrial adjustment 547
Kenis, P. and V. Schneider, The EC as an international corporate actor: Two case studies in economic diplomacy 437
Kimber, R.: see Dowding and Kimber
Kriesi, H. and Ph. van Praag Jr., Old and new politics: The Dutch peace movement and the traditional political organizations 319

Lancaster, Th.D., Comparative nationalism: the Basques in Spain and France 561
Lane, J.-E., Implementation, accountability and trust 527
Lecomte, P.: see Bréchon et al.
Lessmann, S., Incremental and cyclical developments in public expenditure in West Germany. Apolitical process or political steering? 241
Lewis-Beck, M.S.: see Brunk et al.
Lyrintzis, C., The power of populism: the Greek case 667

Mackie, T.T., General elections in western nations during 1986 717
Mannheimer, R., Electoral trends and the Italian Communist Party in the 1970s 635
Mohler, P.Ph., Cycles of value change 155
Mouritzen, P.E., The demanding citizen: driven by policy, self-interest or ideology? 417

Nielsen, H.J., Unions in politics: public opinion in the United Kingdom and Denmark 75

Pijnenburg, B., Political parties and coalitional behaviour in Belgium: the perspective of local politics 53
Poguntke, T., The organization of a participatory party – the German Greens 609

Sainsbury, D., Class voting and left voting in Scandinavia 507
Schneider, V.: see Kenis and Schneider
Schram, A.: see Van Winden et al.
Sidanius, J., R.M. Brewer, E. Banks and B. Ekehammar, Ideological constraint, political interest and gender: a Swedish–American comparison 471

Van der Eijk, C. and R.P. Weber, Notes on the empirical analysis of cyclical processes 271
Van der Eijk, C., Testing theories of electoral cycles. The case of the Netherlands 253
Van Winden, F., A. Schram and F. Groot, The interaction between economics and politics: modelling cycles 185
Van Schuur, W.H., Constraint in European party activists' sympathy scores for interest groups – The left-right dimension as dominant structuring principle 347
Van Praag Jr., Ph.: see Kriesi and van Praag

Weber, R.P., Cycles of the third kind 145
Weber, R.P.: see Van der Eijk and Weber
Widmaier, U., Organizational power and distributional conflict within OECD nations 203
Wortmann, M.: see Farrell and Wortmann

Zimmermann, E., Government stability in six European countries during the world crisis of the 1930s: some preliminary considerations 23